

7 UNESCO World Heritage Sites in Kathmandu You Must Visit

Kathmandu Valley is like a living museum. It has lots of history, culture, and faith. There are 7 UNESCO World Heritage sites in the valley. Among these are the old temples, royal palaces, and religious stupas. These not only illustrate that there is much of Nepalese history but also convey information. All of these sites would tell you an art, belief, and history story.

Here are some sites that will help you to know more about Nepal. Some sites, such as Swayambhunath stupa or Pashupati temple, remain active even today. Local people visit here on a daily basis to pray and conduct rituals.

In this guide, we are going to guide you on how to plan a meaningful and memorable tour in Kathmandu Valley with 7 must-visit UNESCO World Heritage sites.

Kathmandu Durbar Square

One of the most historic places in Nepal is Kathmandu Durbar Square. It is situated in the centre of Kathmandu city. It is the royal palace of the king of Malla and the Shah dynasty in olden days. It is now an important cultural, historical, and architectural landmark.

The square is full of ancient temples, courtyards, and statues. These are demonstrations of the beautiful art of the Newari artists. One of the major attractions is a house, or Kumari Ghar, where the living goddess, Kumari, resides. Sometimes, visitors can see her when she appears during special events.

In 2015, some buildings were destroyed by the earthquake. Numerous ones have been restored, and the square is still evidence of its rich history. When walking here, it feels like taking a step back in time. It is a location that is a must-visit when exploring the Kathmandu Valley.

Patan Durbar Square

Located in the city of Lalitpur, Patan Durbar Square is known for its beautiful architecture and rich artistic heritage. It is one of the best preserved royal squares in the Kathmandu Valley and is renowned for its elaborate wood carvings, stone sculptures, and metal work.

Many temples and courtyards can be found in the square, such as the beautiful Krishna mandir, which is made of stone. The Patan Museum is also a popular attraction, showcasing traditional Nepali art and history.

Attractive Travels and Tours

"Book, Explore and Discover"

Patan is less crowded and more peaceful than Kathmandu Durbar Square, which is great for those who prefer to take their time and explore at a leisurely pace. It is an artistic beauty and a cultural landmark and is a UNESCO site to visit.

Bhaktapur Durbar Square

Bhaktapur Durbar Square is regarded as the best-preserved royal square in the Kathmandu Valley. It is a place where one can experience the authentic Newari culture and traditional architecture, which is a glimpse of medieval Nepal.

The square is home to beautiful buildings such as the 55-window palace, Nyatapola Temple, and Golden Gate, which are decorated with elaborate woodwork and craftsmanship. The narrow streets of Bhaktapur are a step back in time, and the local artisans, pottery squares, and traditional houses all contribute to the charm.

Bhaktapur is a more relaxed and cultural environment, with fewer crowds and more opportunities to explore the history, art, and culture of the area, making it an ideal destination for those seeking a more authentic experience.

Swayambhunath Stupa

Swayambhunath Stupa (Monkey Temple) is one of the oldest and most sacred sites in Nepal. It is located at the top of a hill with a panoramic view of Kathmandu Valley and a serene spiritual ambiance.

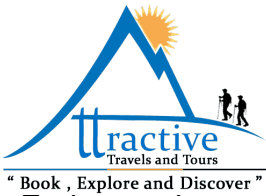

It is characterized by its white dome and golden spire, and the eyes of Buddha are all-seeing, looking in every direction. The visitors have to walk up a long staircase to reach the top and are greeted by prayer flags, spinning wheels, and the playful monkeys.

Swayambhunath is a place of great significance to both Buddhists and Hindus. A symbol of religious harmony in Nepal. It is a UNESCO World Heritage Site due to its historical, spiritual, and scenic value.

Boudhanath Stupa

Boudhanath stupa is one of the largest stupas in the world, and one of the main centers of Tibetan Buddhism in Nepal. The huge white dome and gold spire with Buddha's eyes on it give a strong spiritual impression.

There are monasteries, prayer wheels, and shops around the stupa, creating a serene yet vibrant ambiance. People tend to walk around the stupa clockwise, spinning prayer wheels and enjoying the peaceful atmosphere.

Attractive Travels and Tours

Early morning and early evening are particularly lively at Boudhanath when people and monks come to pray. It is an ideal location to enjoy the Buddhist culture, meditation, and spiritual life in Kathmandu.

Pashupatinath Temple

Pashupatinath Temple is a Hindu temple dedicated to lord shiva and one of the most sacred temples in the world. It is situated on the banks of the Bagmati River and is a significant pilgrimage destination for the Hindus of Nepal and India.

The pagoda-style architecture, the golden roof, and the detailed wood carvings are the features that make the temple complex famous. Visitors may visit the surrounding area, including small temples, ashrams, and ghats, but only Hindus are permitted to enter the main temple.

One of the most unique aspects of Pashupatinath is the cremation rituals performed along the riverbanks, offering a deep insight into Hindu traditions and beliefs about life and death.

It's only a religious place of worship, but it's also a cultural and spiritual landmark and a must-visit destination in Kathmandu.

Changunarayan Temple

Changunarayan temple is believed to be the oldest Hindu temple in Nepal, built in the 4th century. It is dedicated to lord vishnu and is famous for its historical significance and intricate stone and wood carvings.

The temple is situated on a hilltop, close to Bhaktapur, which is a quiet place away from the bustling city. The complex is home to a number of ancient statues, inscriptions, and artworks that showcase the early history and artistry of Nepal.

Changunarayan is not just a religious place, but also an archaeological site of great importance. It is a very special place in the UNESCO World Heritage Sites of Kathmandu Valley due to its quiet ambiance and cultural richness.

Best Time to Visit These Heritage Sites

It is appropriate to tour around the different UNESCO world heritage sites in Kathmandu during the spring season (March to May) and fall (September to November) as the weather is relatively mild and clear skies with moderate temperature prevail. Touring these sites in such seasons would be easy and enjoyable.

The historic sites, including Boudhanath Stupa and Patan Durbar Square in Kathmandu, during

Attractive Travels and Tours

"Book, Explore and Discover"

such seasons will be ideal to tour without much fear of extreme heat and rain.

The other good times would be winter (December to February), where cold weather may be expected, as well as the presence of few people. It would not be appropriate to visit during the summer months (June to August) since it rains a lot during this period.

For one who wants to appreciate the culture of the region, he/she can tour during festivals such as Dashain and Tihar.

Ready to explore Kathmandu's iconic UNESCO World Heritage Sites?

Contact us today.

Conclusion

The 7 UNESCO World Heritage sites in Kathmandu Valley reflect the rich history, culture, and spirituality of Nepal. Ancient art, culture, and royal history are exhibited in places such as Kathmandu Durbar Square and Bhaktapur Durbar Square. Nepal's spiritual heritage is evident in sacred sites such as Pashupatinath Temple and Swayambhunath Stupa.

These sites are more than just sightseeing. It is an opportunity to taste the local culture, religion, and traditions that have been in existence for hundreds of years. These heritage sites make memories that will last a lifetime, whether you're a history buff, a spiritual person, or a traveler.

These UNESCO sites can be a part of the best experience of Nepal with proper planning.

FAQs

1. How many UNESCO World Heritage Sites are there in Kathmandu Valley?

In Kathmandu Valley, there are seven UNESCO World Heritage sites, such as temples, stupas, and ancient royal squares.

2. What are the most famous UNESCO sites in Kathmandu?

Pashupatinath Temple, Swayambhunath Stupa, and Boudhanath Stupa are some of the most popular sites.

3. What is the best time to visit UNESCO sites in Kathmandu?

The optimal time to visit is in spring (March-May) and autumn (September -November) when the weather is nice and clear for sightseeing.

Attractive Travels and Tours

4. Do I need a ticket to visit these heritage sites?

Yes, foreign visitors do pay an entry fee to most UNESCO sites in Kathmandu to help maintain and preserve the sites.

5. Can I visit all 7 UNESCO sites in one day?

It is more advisable to visit them over 2-3 days so that you can enjoy each site without rushing.

6. Are these UNESCO sites close to each other?

While some locations, such as Kathmandu, Patan, and Bhaktapur durbar squares, are relatively close to each other, you may need to travel for a short distance between locations.

7. Is photography allowed in UNESCO World Heritage Sites?

Generally, photography is permitted in most places, but in some temples it may be prohibited, particularly in the sacred areas.

Download PDF