 - Trek Highlights

The Muktinath Spiritual Trek is a sacred journey through the ancient Mustang region of Nepal. This moderate-grade pilgrimage is ideal for spiritual seekers, culture enthusiasts, and mountain lovers alike. Additionally, you will explore dramatic desert landscapes and traditional Tibetan-style villages protected under the Annapurna Conservation Area Project \(ACAP\).

First, your Muktinath Spiritual Trek adventure begins with a scenic drive or flight from Kathmandu to Pokhara. From there, you will take a mountain flight to Jomsom along the Kaligandaki River valley. Along the way, you will visit ancient monasteries, apple orchards, and stone-paved streets in Marpha. Consequently, you can experience rich Buddhist culture and traditional Himalayan hospitality.

However, the true crown jewel of the Muktinath Spiritual Trek is visiting the revered Muktinath Temple at 3,800 meters. At the temple, pilgrims bathe under 108 sacred water spouts to cleanse their souls. In addition, official travel permits for visiting lower Mustang can be verified through the Nepal Tourism Board. Afterward, you will hike through Jharkot village, enjoying stunning views of Nilgiri and Dhaulagiri.

Furthermore, are you looking to explore more of the region? In fact, the Muktinath Spiritual Trek route easily connects with the Annapurna Circuit Trek or the Mardi Himal Trek. Similarly, you can add our full-day Kathmandu UNESCO World Heritage Tour before starting your trip. Ultimately, the best seasons for this pilgrimage are spring (March to May) and autumn (September to November).

Trek Highlights

- Sacred Muktinath Temple (3,800m): First, visit the holy shrine worshipped by both

Hindus and Buddhists, featuring 108 sacred water spouts.

- Fly Over Kali Gandaki Gorge: Furthermore, enjoy a thrilling flight between Dhaulagiri and Annapurna peaks to Jomsom.
- Apple Capital of Marpha: In addition, stroll through cobbled streets and taste famous local apple products in Marpha village.
- Ancient Monasteries & Jharkot Village: Moreover, discover centuries-old Tibetan Buddhist monasteries, prayer wheels, and fortresses.
- Natural Hot Springs at Tatopani: Additionally, bathe in natural thermal waters along the riverbank to soothe your muscles.
- Pokhara & Kathmandu Stays: Finally, relax by Phewa Lake and explore cultural heritage sites in Nepal's vibrant cities.
