Everest Base Camp and Chola Pass Trek – 18 Days

This trekking route is situated in the Everest/Kumbu Region. During your Everest Chola Pass Trek, you will fly to Lukla from Kathmandu and follow the Everest trail. This classic trail is through Namche Bazaar, Tyangboche and Dingboche. Surrounded by dramatic views of Ama Dablam, Makalu, Lhotse and the Nuptse face, you will descend into the Khumbu glacier. Subsequently, you will ascend to KalaPatthar for breathtaking close-up views of the Mount Everest. This trekking program crosses the three high passes, and is bereft of any technical climbing.

The Everest Chola Pass Trek via Renjola and Chola, offers an abiding experience of natural beauty, geological magnificence, and intense cross-cultural discovery. The Sherpa inhabitants of Khumbu, a great valley below Mount Everest, believe that all things – mountains, plants, and animals are sacred. You can also visit Buddhist Monasteries, explore hidden Yeti legends, meet the friendly Sherpa people and find rare Himalayan flora and fauna. The trek offers breathtaking mountain scenery, along with a magnificent panorama of the Himalayas. These trails go through traditional Sherpa villages, rhododendron woodlands, terraced fields, and summer pastures for yak grazing; before walking into the frigid landscape of glaciers and ice.

The Renjo La & Chola Pass is a unique opportunity to explore fantastic views and natural Himalayan beauty. We will pass through Namche Bazaar and Khumjung village, where we socialize with the local Sherpa community, finally ascending to the stunning Gokyo Valley. Gokyo Valley hosts magnificent scenes of the Gokyo lakes, on the high altitude mountains of the great peaks of Cho Oyu and Gyanchungkang. In the Cho La pass trek; we ascend the Gokyo Ri, one of the best viewpoints for Mount Everest, Makalu, and Lhotse. Furthermore, we will cross into the Khumbu Valley through the high altitude Cho La Pass, and finally climbing the peak of Kalapathar.
